Mr. Joſeph Fry and Sons are appointed Letter-Founders to His Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales.

Dublin-Caſtle, January 19, 1786.

THIS Day the Parliament having met according to Prorogation, his Grace the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the Houſe of Peers, and being ſeated on the Throne with the uſual Solemnity, George Bernard, Eſq; Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod, was ſent with a Meſſage from his Grace to the Houſe of Commons, ſignifying his Pleaſure that they ſhould immediately attend his Grace in the Houſe of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Grace made the following Speech:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is with great Satisfaction that, in Obedience to His Majeſty's Commands, I meet you again in Parliament. You will, I am perſuaded, give your utmoſt Attention to the various Objects of Public Concern, which require your Conſideration. Your natural Solicitude for the Welfare of Ireland, and a juſt Senſe of Her real Intereſts, will direct all your Deliberations, and point out to you the Line of Conduct which may be moſt conducive to the Public Advantage, and to that laſting Connection between the Siſter Kingdoms, ſo eſſential to the Proſperity of both.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the Public Accounts and other neceſſary Papers to be laid before you. The Principle which you ſo wiſely eſtabliſhed, of preventing the Accumulation of the National Debt, will, I hope, appear already to have proved ſucceſsful; and I entertain no Doubt that your Wiſdom will perſevere in Meaſures which in their Operation promiſe ſuch beneficial Effects. His Majeſty relies with Confidence upon your Grant of ſuch Supplies as are neceſſary for the Public Service, and for the honourable Support of His Government.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

A ſyſtematic Improvement of the Police, and a vigorous Execution of the Laws, are eſſential, not only to the due Collection of the Public Revenue, but to the Security of Private Property, and indeed to the Protection of Society. The frequent Outrages, which have been committed in ſome Parts of the Kingdom, will particularly call your Attention to this important Object.

It is unneceſſary for me to recommend the Proteſtant Charter Schools to your Protection, or to enumerate the happy Effects which may be derived from your continued Attention to the Linen and other Manufactures, to the Agriculture, and to the Fiſheries of the Kingdom; and to ſuch Meaſures as may animate the Induſtry, extend the Education, and improve the Morals of the People.

It will ever be my Ambition to promote the real Intereſts of Ireland; and to contribute, by all the Means in my Power, towards eſtabliſhing its future Proſperity on the ſureſt and moſt laſting Foundation.

Dublin Caſtle, January 21.

The Houſes of Lords and Commons having reſolved upon humble Addreſſes to His Majeſty, the ſame, together with Addreſſes from both Houſes to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day preſented to his Grace, and, with his Grace's Anſwers, are as follow:

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, embrace with unfeigned Satisfaction this Opportunity of renewing our ſincere Profeſſions of the moſt unſhaken Loyalty and zealous Attachment to your Majeſty's Royal Perſon, Family and Government.

We gratefully acknowledge your Majeſty's Concern for the Happineſs of this Country, in continuing to us our preſent Chief Governor, whoſe great and manly Qualities in Public Life, and whoſe amiable Private Virtues have juſtly endeared him to this Nation. We beg beg Leave to assure your Majesty that, with our earnest Solicitude for the Welfare of this Kingdom, we shall direct our Deliberations to promote Her real Interests, and strengthen that lasting Connection between Great-Britain and Ireland, which is so essential to the Prosperity of both Kingdoms, and to the Power of the Empire.

We are sensible, that nothing can so much discredit any Country, or retard its Improvement, as the Want of a well-formed Police. We shall therefore apply our Thoughts to remedy any Defects and prevent any Interruption in the Execution of the Laws, so that their Energy may restore the Security of Public and Private Property, and give full and adequate Protection to Society.

The Protestant Charter Schools, the Linen and other Manufactures, the Agriculture, and the Fisheries of this Country, shall have our just Attention; and we will endeavour, by the best Means we can devise, to encourage a Spirit of Industry, and to extend the Education and improve the Morals of the People.

In exerting our utmost Efforts for the Happiness of this Country we are animated by your Majesty's Illustrious Example: We feel the many Blessings of your mild and auspicious Government, and we entreat your Majesty graciously to accept the Acknowledgments of heart-felt Gratitude, and our ardent Wishes that your Reign may be long, happy, and glorious.

Wm. Watts Gayer,
Edw. Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.

His Grace the Lord Lieutenant's Answer,

My Lords,

I Will immediately transmit this dutiful and loyal Address to be laid before His Majesty.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, rejoice in this Opportunity of renewing our most sincere Professions of Respect and Attachment to your Royal Person, Family and Government.

We gratefully acknowledge your Majesty's Goodness in continuing to us a Chief Governor, whose Public Conduct and Private Virtues have justly endeared him to this Nation.

We shall immediately apply ourselves to the Dispatch of Public Affairs; and we intreat your Majesty to rest assured, that while our Views are intent upon the real Interests of Ireland, our Solicitude must be equally engaged to strengthen the Connection and increase the Prosperity of the Empire.

We will chearfully grant such Supplies as shall be necessary for the Public Service, and for the honorable Support of your Majesty's Government; and we shall continue a due Attention to the System adopted in the last Session of raising Public Credit, by preventing an Accumulation of the National Debt.

Internal Disorder and Violation of the Laws must ever excite the Indignation and Resentment of a Legislative Body, whose Duty is stimulated by an earnest Desire to give Peace and Prosperity to the Country. We shall therefore direct our Attention to the Establishment of an improved Police, and to the obtaining a vigorous Execution of the Laws, so essential to the Security of Public and Private Property, and to the Protection of Society. We shall make the Agriculture, Manufactures, and Fisheries of the Kingdom the Objects of our Deliberations, and apply ourselves to devise such Measures as may best encourage Industry, and improve the Education and Morals of the People.

In seeking the Happiness of our Country we feel the Incentive of your Majesty's gracious Example: We experience the Blessings of your Government, and humbly request your Majesty to accept, from the Hearts of your loyal People, the warm Effusions of their constant Gratitude and faithful Duty.

E. Cooke, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Grace the Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

I Will forthwith transmit this dutiful and loyal Address to be laid before His Majesty.

To His Grace Charles Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Grace,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to return your Grace our humble Thanks for your excellent Speech from the Throne.

His Majesty's repeated Acts of paternal Goodness for the Welfare of this Kingdom claim our grateful Acknowledgments; and his gracious Attention to the Happiness of this Kingdom has been especially shewn by His continuing your Grace in the Administration of the Government.

Your Grace may be assured, that, in the Transaction of Public Affairs, to the Dispatch of which we shall immediately apply ourselves, we shall zealously cultivate a lasting Connection between Great Britain and Ireland as essential to the Prosperity of both Kingdoms, and to the Strength and Dignity of the Empire.

Satisfied of the Necessity and Advantage of an improved Police, to give a vigorous Execution to the Laws, we shall endeavour to devise such effectual Means as may give Security to Property and Protection to Society.

We shall not fail to continue our Attention to the Protestant Charter Schools, the Linen and other Manufactures, the Agriculture, and the Fisheries of this Kingdom; and shall be happy in forwarding every Measure which may encourage Industry, and improve the Education and Morals of the People.

From Experience of your Grace's earnest Desire to promote the real Interests of Ireland, we most entirely rely upon your Exertions for Her future Prosperity; and we shall gratefully embrace every Opportunity of contributing to the Honour and Ease of your Grace's Administration.

Wm. Watts Gayer,
Edw. Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.

His Grace's Answer.

My Lords,

I Return you my sincere Thanks for this very honourable Testimony of your Approbation: You may be assured, that I shall constantly endeavour to preserve your good Opinion, by a steady Attachment to the real Interests of Ireland.

To His Grace Charles Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Grace,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, beg Leave humbly to return your Grace our sincere Thanks for your Speech from the Throne.

We

We embrace, with Alacrity and Pleaſure, this Opportuity of repeating our Teſtimony of Duty and Affection to your Perſon, our high Senſe of your Virtues and Abilities, our entire Approbation of your Adminiſtration, and our Gratitude to His Majeſty, for continuing your Grace in the Government of this Kingdom.

We ſhall chearfully enter upon the Diſpatch of Public Buſineſs. Under your Grace's Auſpices, and deeply impreſſed with the Wiſdom and Neceſſity of a firm Connection with Great Britain, ſo eſſential to the Proſperity of both Kingdoms, we ſhall combine our Endeavours for the Advantage of Ireland, with a juſt Attention to the Intereſts of the Empire.

It affords us the higheſt Satisfaction, that our Endeavours to prevent the Accumulation of Public Debt are likely to prove ſucceſsful; We ſhall adhere to a Principle, ſo neceſſary for the Support of National Credit, and ſo highly advantageous to a Commercial Kingdom: And we ſhall readily grant ſuch Supplies as may be ſufficient for the Exigencies of the Nation, and for the Support and Dignity of His Majeſty's Government.

We feel the utmoſt Concern and Indignation at the frequent Outrages which have been committed in ſome Parts of the Kingdom, and heartily concur with your Grace in the Expediency of eſtabliſhing and enforcing a judicious Syſtem of Police, in order to put a Stop to ſuch diſgraceful Proceedings.

The Proteſtant Charter Schools, the Linen and other Manufactures, the Agriculture and the Fiſheries of this Kingdom, are Objects which will always claim our particular Attention; and we ſhall be ready to adopt ſuch Meaſures as may appear likely to encourage a Spirit of Induſtry, extend the Education, and improve the Morals of the People.

Conſcious as we are of the Benefits derived from your Grace's Adminiſtration, and of the Proofs of your Attachment to the Intereſts of this Country, we ſhall at all Times uſe our utmoſt Exertions to promote His Majeſty's Service, and the Eaſe and Honour of your Grace's Government.

E. Cooke, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Grace's Anſwer.

I Return you my cordial Thanks for this Addreſs, and am extremely gratified by your Teſtimony of perſonal Regard and repeated Approbation of my public Conduct.

I ſhall ever anxiouſly ſtudy to preſerve your good Opinion, by employing, on all Occaſions, my conſtant Exertions for the Welfare of Ireland, and by promoting the connected Strength and Proſperity of the Empire.
